

CODE OF ETHICS OF THE ALL INDIA CHESS FEDERATION

1. Introduction

- 1.1 The game and concept of chess is based on the assumption that everyone involved/concerned observe existing rules and regulations and attaches the greatest importance to fair play and good sportsmanship.
- 1.2 It is impossible to define exactly and in all circumstances the standard of conduct expected from all parties involved in AICF tournaments and events, or to list all sets which would amount to a breach of the Code of Ethics and lead to disciplinary sanctions. In most cases common sense will tell the participants the standards of behaviour that are required. If any participant in an AICF event has any doubt as to the conduct which is expected of him or her, the AICF officials present should be contacted or the local organizer who has been put in charge of the event.
- 1.3 Disputes arising during a game or tournament shall be resolved in accordance with the rules of play in existence at the time and with the tournament regulations.
- 1.4 This Code of Ethics is applicable to:
 - AICF office bearers,
 - Affiliated member associations and their members,
 - Organizers,
 - Sponsors,
 - all players/participants in AICF registered tournaments.

This Code of Ethics shall govern what action may be taken against any person (meaning either an individual or organization) who deliberately or through gross negligence violate the rules and regulations of the game or neglect to observe the precepts of fair play.

- 1.5 The Ethics Commission shall also hear and decide any dispute between:
 - a. the AICF and its one or more member state associations,
 - b. Two or more member stated associations of AICF, and
 - c. Members of state association and the state association.

2. Breach of Code of Ethics

The Code of Ethics shall be breached by a person or organization who directly or indirectly:

- 2.1 offers, or attempts to offer or accepts any consideration or bribe with a view of influencing the result in a game of chess or election into AICF office, or
- 2.2 indulges in any of the following:
 - 2.2.1 Fraudulence in the administration of any AICF office or state association office that affects other associations;
 - 2.2.2 Misbehaviour of a personal nature which is generally unacceptable by normal social standards;
 - 2.2.3 Organizers, tournament directors, arbiters or other officials who fail to perform their functions in an impartial and responsible manner;
 - 2.2.4 Failure to comply with normally accepted standards of courtesy and chess etiquette;
 - 2.2.5 Cheating or attempts at cheating during games and tournaments. Violent, threatening or other unseemly behaviour during or in connection with a chess event;
 - 2.2.6 Players withdrawing from a tournament without valid reason or without informing the tournament arbiter;
 - 2.2.7 Gross or repeated violations of Constitution of AICF or other approved tournament regulations;
 - 2.2.8 In any top-level tournament, players, delegations or teams must comply with a high standard dress code. Delegations includes both a player`s seconds and any other individual who the player allows to conduct business on behalf of the players. Players are responsible for the actions of acknowledged members of their delegations;
 - 2.2.9 Players or members of their delegations must not make unjustified accusations toward other players, officials or sponsors. All protests must be referred directly to the arbiter or the Technical Director of the tournament;
 - 2.2.10 In addition, disciplinary action in accordance with this Code of Ethics will be taken in cases of occurrences which cause the game of chess, AICF or its member associations to appear in an unjustifiable unfavourable light and in this way damage its reputation;

- 2.2.11 Any conduct likely to injure or discredit the reputation of AICF, its members, its events, organizers, participants, sponsors, officials or that will enhance the goodwill which attaches to the same, or
- 2.3 offers, or attempts to offer any favourable treatment to any person or organisation in order to unjustly enrich oneself, or
- 2.4 allots a tournament, event, camp etc. to a family run organisation, or
- 2.5 Indulges in an act which is in violation of the Constitution of AICF; or
- 2.6 Indulges in any other act which the Ethics Commission feels is against the interest of the sport of chess in India.
- 2.7 Misconduct or malpractice in the elections of AICF or any of its member state chess associations.
- 2.8 Breach or violation of National Sports Development Code of India, 2011, as updated from time to time, and other guidelines of Government of India or the Sports Authority of India.

3. Sanctions

- 3.1 Breaches of the AICF Code of Ethics shall be sanctioned whether acts of commission or omission, whether deliberate or negligent, whether the breach constitutes an act or attempted act, and whether the parties acted as principle, participant, accomplice or instigator, aiding or abetting.
- 3.2 Breaches of the AICF Code of Ethics may be punishable by one or more of the following sanctions:
- warning;
 - reprimand;
 - return of awards;
 - fine, up to Rs. 10,00,000/-;
 - revocations of titles and sports results;
 - social work;
 - ban up to 15 years on taking part in a chess competition, or in any chess-related activity, as a player, arbiter, organiser, or representative of a chess federation;
 - temporarily exclusion from membership or office;
 - setting aside of orders passed by a chess association;
 - declaring elections as invalid or illegal;

- any other sanction that the Ethics Commission may deem fit in the facts and circumstances of the case in the interest of the sport of chess.
- 3.3 If a sanction is imposed, on the making of an application to the effect, the Ethics Commission may examine whether there are grounds to totally or partially suspend the enforcement of the sanction. The Ethics Commission shall keep in mind the previous record and conduct of the person/organisation sanctioned. By suspending enforcement of the sanction, the Ethics and Disciplinary Commission may subject the person sanctioned to a probationary period of anything from six months up to two years. If the person benefiting from a suspended sanction commits another breach during the probationary period, the suspension shall automatically be revoked and the original sanction completely applied and added to the sanction imposed for the new breach.
- 3.4 The sanction may be imposed by taking into account all relevant factors in the case.
- 3.5 The Ethics and Disciplinary Commission shall decide the scope and duration of any sanction.
- 3.6 Sanctions may be limited to a geographical area or to one or more specific categories of competitions or events (starting date).
- 3.7 Unless otherwise specified, the sanction may be increased as deemed appropriate if a breach has been repeated.
- 3.8 Where more than one breach has been committed, the sanction shall be based on the most serious breach, and increased as appropriate depending on the specific circumstances. In these cases, when determining the amount of a fine, the Ethics and Disciplinary Commission is not obliged to adhere to the general upper limit of the fine.
- 3.9 At the request of the AICF, the Ethics and Disciplinary Commission may (immediately) take provisional measures (e.g. provisional sanctions) if a breach of the Code of Ethics appears to have been committed and a decision on the main issue may not be taken early enough. The Ethics and Disciplinary Commission may also issue provisional measures for preventing interference with the establishment of the truth. Provisional measures may be valid for a maximum of 90 days. In exceptional circumstances, the provisional measures may be extended by the Ethics and Disciplinary Commission for an additional period not to exceed 60 days. The duration of provisional sanctions shall be taken into account in the final decision.
- 3.10 The Ethics Commission or the Appellate Authority may pass such interim orders as it may deem fit while hearing a Complaint or Appeal, as the case may be.
